Re: Security System Installation

We have a remote site that had been broken into 3 times over a two year period with several thousands of dollars' worth of Equipment stolen each time.

It was expensive and difficult to get the site operational after each break in and the potential for losses to clients was a big concern.

Securcom met with myself on site and we discussed all the potential risks for future break in, and they were able to come up with good solutions for each scenario.

The products they recommended have work well and seem to have deterred any future criminal activity at that site.

The installation process was done very professionally and the service we have received from Chris and his team have been excellent.

Thank You
